

Love itself is not good company

Wait, and the right person might come along...

But love alone is not the goal

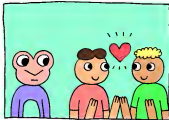

HOW to LOVE

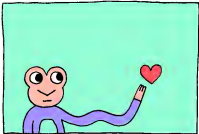

Yurika writes:

I am in deep pain because I badly want to be in love,
however, I can't feel it

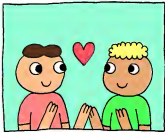

You see other people in love
and want that feeling for yourself.

you can't just grab it.

People can be good company

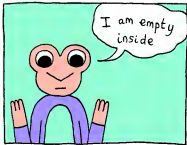

and love is a product of that.

or just enjoy who you are now.

You feel no Love.

a desire for desire
will only lead to a love that is small and undesirable.
